GOES TO THE JURY.

Judge Hargis and Sheriff Callahan Testified For Defense in Marcum Murder Trial.

THE JURORS WERE INSTRUCTED.

No Rebuttal Testimony Was Offered by the Commonwealth When the Defense Closed.

Those Who Have Closely Watched the Case and Are Acquainted With Conditions Forecast That a Hung Jury Will Result.

Jackson, Ky., June 17.—Among the witnesses examined in the Marcum murder case Tuesday were Judge Jas. Hargis, uncle of Curt Jett, and Sheriff Callahan. Neither knew who killed Attorney Marcum. They were in Hargis' store but could not see who fired the shots. Testified they did not see Ewen look in the hall of the courthouse when the first shot was fired.

There was much comment Tuesday night upon the testimony offered by the defense, especially that of Judge Hargis and Sheriff Callahan, who were standing across the street when Marcum was killed in the courthouse. While the witnesses of the defense Monday consisted of the defendants themselves and their friends, those Tuesday consisted of the relatives, employees and close friends and leaders of the dominant faction and the drift of all was for the purpose of proving an alibi for the prisoners.

The defense closed its case Tuesday afternoon. The prosecution did not offer rebuttal testimony. Prosecutor Byrd seemed satisfied with the rigid cross-examination, under which the witnesses for the defense, who were so peculiarly unanimous in their testimony, had been put. It is the popular opinion that the exactness with which Jett was located on a corner by witnesses for the defense who saw little else to relate was damaging to his case. An acquittal would be a surprise, but the general belief of those who have watched the case and are acquainted with conditions that a hung jury is the most reasonable forecast. If either life imprisonment or death should be awarded it is considered that White will break down and if he confesses implicate the men who instigated the assassination.

With the arguments of counsel Wednesday morning, the case of Curtis Jett and Tom White will go to the jury, which late Tuesday was instructed to impose the death sentence, life imprisonment or acquit the defendants.

THE SUSPECTED INCENDIARIES.

No Evidence Against Them and They Were Discharged.

Jackson, Ky., June 17.—Just before noon Tuesday the grand jury filed into the court room and made its report to Judge Redwine. The foreman said no evidence was found against Joe Crawford and Ed Thorp, and it has been decided to order their release. Judge Redwine sent an order to Maj. Allen, in charge of the jail and prisoners, Crawford and Thorp were liberated. It is believed that no one will be indicted for burning Ewen's home. Notwithstanding the grand jury's surprising course in dismissing Crawford and Thorp without waiting for witnesses who had been summoned, Attorney Byrd ordered the men held. He then asked Judge Redwine to have a special grand jury empaneled to investigate the case. This request was denied on the ground that there was not sufficient time left at this term of court.

Tuesday afternoon an assault was made on Gray Haddocks, who testified that he saw men running from Ewen's burning hotel, one of whom he thought was Joe Crawford, Hargis' teamster. Haddocks was on the bridge when attacked by three men who threatened to throw him in the water. A provost guard was attracted to the scene and just as he arrived one of the men, who was on horseback, drew his pistol. Seeing the guard he hastily rode away and escaped. His two companions, Lee Gay and Louis Johnson, from Perry county, were arrested. Gay was charged with carrying concealed weapons and Johnson with assault. They refused to talk.

THE EWEN FAMILY.

Part of It Secretly Departs From Jackson, Ky.

Jackson, Ky., June 17.—The secret departure of part of the Ewen family and arrangements for the rest to get away indicates the feeling that his life was not considered safe even after all of his property had been destroyed.

GETTING A JURY.

Separate Trial Asked by Commonwealth For Mr. Farrow's Assailants

And Case Against Sanders First Taken Up Large Crowd Met Troops at Depot, But No Trouble Occurred.

An immense crowd composed of men, women and children was at the C. and O. depot at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning when Sheriff Roberson and the Louisville Battery of State Guards arrived from Covington with Tom Mann, Ed. Morris and Charles Saunders, the negro assailants of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Farrow. The Frankfort company was also in waiting, with their Gatling gun.

The Louisville company had a Hotchkiss gun with them, and the trio of prisoners surrounded by members of the battery, with the Hotchkiss gun in front and Gatling in rear, were marched direct to the court house.

Aside from the sensational scenes consequent upon the presence of the troops, nothing unusual transpired. No demonstration was made against the prisoners.

An important witness for the prosecution was not present when the case was called, and court adjourned till 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the prisoners being committed to the jail in the interim.

On the reassembling of court at 2 o'clock the attorneys for the Commonwealth asked for a separate trial of the accused. This was granted, and the case against Charles Sanders charged with wilful and malicious shooting was taken up and the work of securing a jury commenced. The rest of the afternoon was occupied in this work, and when court adjourned nine jurors had been accepted, as follows: R. R. Maltby, W. F. Dugan, Wm. Roesser, G. M. McGraw, W. D. Frazee, Frank Boyd, Wm. Colvin, C. M. Devore and H. K. Dickson.

The regular panel having been exhausted, a special venire was issued for twenty-five jurors, and Sheriff Roberson was directed to have them present at 9 o'clock this morning.

Mr. J. M. Collins and City Attorney Wood are defendant's attorneys, while Commonwealth's Attorney Daum and County Attorney O'Donnell are looking after the prosecution.

The work of securing a jury has probably been completed ere this, and the trial of Saunders ought to be finished today. Saunders is the one who confessed shortly after his arrest, and it is said he is ready to tell all about the case when he is placed on the stand.

While a large crowd was in Maysville Tuesday, it is safe to say that the greater part of them came merely out of idle curiosity. No trouble is apprehended, and although there was no demonstration whatever against the prisoners, the sensational newspaper correspondents have sent out wild stories of a mob thronging the streets and being driven back at "the point of bayonets." These sensational writers ought to be banished, along with their papers.

As an extra precaution against trouble from any botheaded fellow, no one is admitted to the court house until he is searched.

The Elks' parade this year promises to be bigger and better than ever, one of the incentives being premiums for the best displays. A prize of $15 will be given for the handsomest merchants' or manufacturers' float. For the next handsomest, $10. For the handsomest turnout, with decorations of flowers, bunting, etc., $12. Second best, $8. Third best, $5. A committee of ladies will be chosen to decide the latter three.

One of the privates of the Frankfort Company of State Guards was cut on the back of the right hand in a scuffle Tuesday afternoon with some parties at a house in the rear of the jail. The cut severed a vein and he had to be taken to Dr. Yazell's office to have the wound dressed.

Death of Nelson Innes.

Denver, Col., June 17.—Nelson Innes, one of the best-known sporting writers in the country, died of consumption here. His illness was the result of a cold contracted while attending the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight at Carson City.

Bridge Approach Went Down.

Eau Claire, Wis., June 17.—A long section of the Madison street bridge approach went down under the weight of 200 people Tuesday night. Six persons were probably fatally injured and 25 or 30 others less seriously injured.

AN EXPLOSION FOLLOWED.

Latoria Domestic Poured Cleansing Stuff Into Water.

Covington, Ky., June 17.—Rosa Christian, a 19-year-old colored girl of Latoria, Ky., was probably fatally burned Tuesday morning in a most peculiar manner. The girl is employed at the home of Mrs. Welsh, on Southern avenue, in Latoria, and, Tuesday morning was preparing to do a day's washing. She got a box of cleansing material and poured it into the water. The stuff seemed to have some combustible mixture and had no sooner come in contact with the water than an explosion followed and the flames enveloped the girl, who screamed and ran from the house. Mrs. Welsh was upstairs and hearing the girl's screams ran down stairs, and with the assistance of neighbors they extinguished the flames by smothering them with a blanket. Dr. Carlton, of Latoria, was then summoned and did all he could to relieve the girl's terrible suffering. Her condition is serious, as the doctor thinks she inhaled the flames. Her face and shoulders were terribly burned and the hair was almost completely burned off her head. The attending physician was mystified when he heard the cause of the burns and stated that he had never heard of any such thing before.

ANNUAL REUNION.

Elks From All Parts of Kentucky Took Possession of Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., June 17.—Tuesday was resplendent with glory for the Elks' reunion, which opened here. Visiting Elks have taken complete possession of the city, with their ladies, sponsors and maids of honor. Three thousand delegates are attending the reunion, which is interspersed with music, oratory and varied pleasures.

Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge was the orator of the day. He was assisted by Emmet Dixon, of Paris, and Dean Baker P. Lee, of this city. At noon the visitors were treated to an old-fashioned barbecue at the fair grounds, after which the day was spent in witnessing the matinee racing.

Tuesday night there was a general reception by the local lodge at their club rooms.

Wednesday the festivities will close with two grand balls.

KENTUCKY NEWSPAPERS.

They Start a Movement to Reimburse Capt. B. J. Ewen.

Louisville, Ky., June 17.—Newspapers throughout Kentucky have started a movement to reimburse B. J. Ewen, of Jackson, by popular subscription for his loss of $10,000 sustained through the burning of his hotel by incendiaries. The general belief that Ewen is suffering for doing his duty as a citizen in testifying in the assassination cases makes the movement a popular one. Already subscriptions amounting to $550 have been received by a Lexington paper and an equal amount has been sent to the Courier Journal. Many other newspapers have taken up the movement and Ewen will probably be reimbursed in full.

Represented Himself as Ewen.

Manchester, Ky., June 17.—An imposter representing himself to be Capt. B. J. Ewen, of Jackson, arrived here Tuesday and began soliciting aid. With tears streaming from his eyes he told a pitiful story of how he had been hounded and persecuted by assassins. He wanted to get money enough to go to St. Louis. The authorities got after him, but he made good his escape.

Kentucky Outlaw on Trial.

Sergeant, Ky., June 17.—Clifton Brannan, the tri-Kentucky murderer and outlaw, once mixed in the Breathitt county feud affairs, arrested a month ago in Floyd county, has been taken to Wise county, Virginia, where he will go on trial Wednesday for the brutal murder of his wife at Hurricane Gap in the summer of 1902. Brannan has served two terms in the Kentucky pen.

Combs Nominated For Senator.

Sergeant, Ky., June 17.—Ex-United States Commissioner John W. Combs, of Hindman, leading republican politician of Eastern Kentucky, was nominated for senator from the 33d senatorial district of Kentucky. He has figured prominently in Eastern Kentucky politics for many years.

The City Not Liable.

Frankfort, Ky., June 17.—In the case of the Frankfort board of councilman vs. commonwealth the court of appeals Tuesday decided that a city can not be fined for a nuisance that is suffered to exist on private property.

Fought to a Draw.

Fond Du Lac, Wis., June 17.—Tommy Moratt, the "fighting conductor" of Chicago, and Hugh McPadden, of Philadelphia, fought an eight-round draw here Tuesday night.

BURYING BODIES.

One Hundred and Fifty of the Victims of the Cloudburst in Oregon Interred.

TOTAL LOSS OF LIFE NEAR 500.

The Scene From the Hillside Overlooking the Town of Heppner is One of Desolation.

Huge Piles of Wreckage, in Many Places Fifty Feet High, Fill the Canyon For Half a Mile Below the Town.

Heppner, Ore., June 17.—Estimates of the loss of life by Sunday night's cloudburst differ widely but the number of dead is certain to reach 300 and it may be swelled to 500 when all are accounted for. One hundred and fifty bodies have been buried and it is known that 50 are missing. Still others who were strangers in the town are supposed to be among the lost.

People are coming here from all directions in wagons and on horseback and the work of recovering bodies and burying the dead is proceeding as fast as possible.

The scene from the hillside overlooking the town is one of desolation. Huge piles of wreckage, in many places 50 feet high, fill the canyon from half a mile below the town. As the debris, which is covered many feet deep by mud, is cleared away more bodies are found. Immense boulders weighing tons were rolled along by the flood and deposited in the midst of the town or lodged against buildings.

Three Hundred Bodies Recovered.

Three hundred bodies have been found and there are men who say the work is only half begun. An army of women took charge of the bodies. An arm, a leg, a toe, a finger, a lock of hair, a tuft of clothing—these are harbingers of horror beneath the mud. Babies and little children lie there buried with many a gash or bruise on their tender bodies. Forms of women frequently came to light, bereft of all clothing. The bodies are borne to Roberts' hall to be washed and dressed by women to be shrouded in coarse white clothes to be laid in rough wood boxes. There is no time for ceremony. The floors swim with the half diluted mud that drips from the victims, but the living patter through it or sweep it out when it gets too deep. The rough boxes go to the cemeteries, not singly in hearses but many at a time piled high in the wagons.

Thrilling Incidents of the Catastrophe.

Among the incidents of the catastrophe was the saving of three lives by Julius Kettley, 70 years old, who rode one mile and a half on the roofs of houses and pulled in three people from the flood. James Kernan, the O. R. & N. agent, met his death at the telegraph key trying to raise Portland to inform the outside world of the impending calamity. His little daughter Katie, who was saved by remaining in the station house, saw her father and mother lost in the whirl of the mad waters. One of the most thrilling adventures was that of Thomas Shuter, who with his family was carried down stream in his house for a mile and a half. His wife and two children stepped into the upper rooms. Below town the house was shot across the creek to the west side, where it lodged in debris, 150 yards from the canyon bank. Shuter then took his two little ones on his shoulder and swam 200 yards in the boiling torrent, landed the children and then struck out to the house for his wife and rescued her.

Convicted of Grand Larceny.

New York, June 17.—James McHugh, driver for an express company, was convicted of grand larceny and will be sentenced Friday. McHugh was convicted for stealing a package of jewelry valued at $10,000, delivered to him as agent of the express company for shipment to Chicago.

Dead at the Age of 85 Years.

Lincoln, Neb., June 17.—Mrs. Sarah Dickinson died here at the state home for the friendless where she had lived for many years. She was born at Knoxville, Tenn., 85 years ago. Her grandfather was Gen. Meade, of the revolutionary army, a compatriot of George Washington.

Well-Known Platonist Dead.

Jacksonville, Ill., June 17.—Dr. Hiram K. Jones died here Tuesday, aged 82 years. He was a well-known platonist and had devoted the best years of his life to a study of philosophy. He was a friend of Emerson and Bronson Alcott.

Salonica, Turkey, June 17.—Several conflicts have recently occurred in Macedonia between insurgent bands and Turkish troops. Some thirty Bulgarians have been killed and wounded.

More drastic measures will have to be used with that Jackson gang than the Lexington Bible class can bring into service, it is conjectured.

That darkey that murdered the School Superintendent in Illinois ought to have hurried away to the city of refuge, Indianapolis, to have saved his carcass.

AFTER twenty-seven years editorial work on the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times, Col. Emmet G. Logan has retired to his fine farm in Warren County. That long service certainly entitles him to a few years of ease and comfort under his own vine and fig tree.

TRIBUTE TO WOMEN OF THE SOUTH.

Col. Charles H. Collins, of Hillsboro, O., a native of Maysville, whom his old friends remember with pleasure, not long ago made an extended tour of the South, and in a recent account of his travels he pays the women of the South this beautiful tribute:

The women of the South, or at least those whom I was so fortunate as to meet are not imbued with the idea that their mission is to reform everybody except themselves. They are women of culture and intelligence, graceful in manner, soft in speech, devoted wives, good housekeepers, and although having their clubs, societies, mission work, church work and all the adjuncts to feminine life and activity that exists in the North, yet the home and family come first of all. It is never neglected, no matter how pressing the call from other sources. Home life is at its best in the South, and is made so by the Southern women.

PIANO RECITAL.

Miss Berry's Class Close the Year's Work With a Very Pleasant Entertainment—The Program.

Last evening Miss Lida Berry's class closed the year's work with a recital at her home on West Second street. The pupils acquitted themselves most creditably, each one giving evidence of diligent work and faithful instruction during the past term. Little Miss Frances Geisel gave two humorous recitations and Master Louis Schatzmann rendered a very beautiful selection on violin which added much to the pleasure of the evening. Where all did so well, it would be difficult to commend in particular, but Miss Berry has reason to congratulate herself on the progress of all her pupils:

ALL KINDS OF

FIRE

With a good Gas Range you can cook your soup over a slow fire, which it needs, and your roast over a quick fire, and both at the same time. How can you do this anyother way than with a GAS RANGE?

Gas Ranges

At Factory Cost Price!

Never was such another opportunity afforded you to obtain so much value for the same money. During the month of June the Gas Company will, if so desired, make a written agreement with any purchaser of a Gas Range to the effect, that, if on the first day of August, said purchaser shall have become dissatisfied with the use of their Range, either for the reason that it will not do the work as represented, or that it costs too much to operate, then the Gas Company will take back the stove and refund any money paid upon its purchase price. The only thing to prevent you taking advantage of this offer is that the Ranges are sold quicker than they can be connected up, so if you are thinking of buying one, now is the time to decide. Over twenty installed during May and not a single complaint. For further particulars see the Gas Company and sample Ranges at Langfels & Co.'s.
